Press release

Luxembourg–Poland FinTech & RegTech Business Conference 13th of December 2018

Luxembourg-Poland Chamber of Commerce, in close collaboration with the Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Luxembourg, the Embassy of Luxembourg in Poland and the Luxembourg House of Financial Technology, is organizing the Luxembourg-Poland Business Conference and a competition dedicated to Polish FinTech & RegTech start-ups, scheduled for 13 December 2018.

The purpose of the conference and the competition within it is among others to present the best Polish FinTech & RegTech start-ups to representatives of foreign investment funds, private investors and business angels.

This event will also offer an opportunity to discuss future development of such business branches as finance and new technologies.

Polish start-ups, which managed to become known abroad, are very often appreciated for their innovative character, ambition and diligence of their owners, the best examples being Booksy or Growbots, which are huge international success.

We want Polish companies to be widely spoken about, hence the idea to organize this conference and competition. Participation in it gives them a great chance to introduce themselves to the panel of outstanding experts from Poland and Luxembourg and to establish valuable business contacts, which may result in winning an interesting investor or partner – says Artur Sosna, President of Luxembourg-Poland Chamber of Commerce.

Following the September 2018 competition targeting the best FinTech & RegTech solutions, LPCC together with “Luxembourg House of Financial Technology” (LHoFT) selected 12 best Polish start-ups from around 100 applications.
